“PRESIDENT’S MESSAGE” -DOREEN VAN LEEUWEN

Attending the Chapter Presidents dinner at the CAMFT Leadership Conference last Friday gave me a valuable opportunity to meet with our State-level Board Members as well as other chapter leaders.

During an extended conversation with President-elect Guillermo Alvarez, I learned of his impressive commitment to volunteerism, as he told of serving in various offices at the Bay Area chapter, to which he added the role of Board Member At Large for CAMFT. Eventually he worked his way up to President-Elect, in part because he embodies the goal of diversifying the leadership of this organization. Guillermo is a native of Nicaragua, speaks English and Spanish with equal facility and ease, is licensed as an LMFT, and also represents the gay segment of our membership. He described how stepping up to leadership has been an enormous stretch, but one he sees as crucial to the growth of CAMFT’s multicultural composition.

A chat with our current CAMFT President, Sandy Wolff, deepened my sense of appreciation of the level of service offered by these leaders. Sandy told of the countless hours required to attend to her role, even with her talented and dedicated fellow board members doing their part. When she retires from the Board next year she will complete seven years of involvement at the state level.

Tammy Shelton, president of the Orange County chapter invites any and all of our chapter members to attend meetings there to learn, lunch, and grow together. Discussion of reciprocity between chapters was opened, and will certainly be a subject at future board meetings.

Our sister chapter in Temecula, the Southeast Inland Chapter, will experiment this coming year with co-presidents. There too reciprocity is invited, as we seek to support each other at the chapter level.

This is my second-to-last president’s message. At the end of April, I am stepping down to Past President. As of this writing, we are still eager to welcome someone, or two, to take on as “Captain of the Ship”. I am as excited as you are to have the identity of that person(s) revealed! I can only hope that by describing to you the stories above, you will feel inspired to give back and forward to your profession and your colleagues!

Get involved today! Contact Doreen (951) 847-7742, doreen4u2@sbcglobal.net

FEBRUARY SPEAKER HIGHLIGHT

DAVE JENSEN, J.D., CAMFT STAFF ATTORNEY

Dave Jensen has been Staff Attorney with CAMFT since April of 2002. Dave graduated from Brigham Young University with a Bachelor's Degree in History, and received his law degree from the Thomas Jefferson School of Law in San Diego, California.

As an attorney with CAMFT, Dave consults with CAMFT's members regarding their legal and ethical dilemmas and is a regular contributor to The Therapist magazine.

Dave gives numerous chapter, school, and agency law and ethics presentations and has developed What Does the Law Expect of Me? Parts I – IV.

Law & Ethics Training Learning Objectives:

1. To educate therapists about the contours of the psychotherapist-patient privilege
2. To improve the level of discourse among therapists regarding the psychotherapist-patient privilege.
3. To prepare therapists to respond to subpoenas
4. To inform therapists about the distinctions between percipient, expert, and treating-expert witnesses.
5. To educate therapists about the most common exceptions to the psychotherapist-patient privilege.

IE-CAMFT MEMBERSHIP HAS ITS BENEFITS!

Membership in the Inland Empire Chapter of CAMFT requires a membership in CAMFT. There are multiple benefits to belonging to both. For more information on membership benefits or how to join, see the membership enrollment or renewal form on page 13; or contact Garry Raley for assistance. Membership may be initiated or renewed any time during the year. But keep in mind the membership year runs from April 1 to March 30.

For your $40 yearly investment you can:

- ✓ Network
- ✓ Receive 2 Gratis CEUs Available at Each of 9 Monthly Meetings
- ✓ Attend Special Law and Ethics Meeting with 6 CEUs at Reduced Cost
- ✓ Stay Connected to Other Therapists
- ✓ Advertise in this Newsletter
- ✓ Develop Peer Relations to Reduce Isolation
- ✓ Give and Receive Consultation and Referrals
- ✓ Increase Your Knowledge

All the benefits listed above arise from, shall we say, "just showing up." It has been said that for much of life, half the job is "just showing up." This might be characterized as the passive approach to involvement with IE-CAMFT. However, even more benefits are available through active involvement. Active means volunteering your time, talents, and energies by following through after enthusiastically saying YES to the following question:

Will you support IE-CAMFT by volunteering to fill one or more of its organizational roles?

Contact Doreen Van Leeuwen to increase your activity with our board. The board positions of President-Elect and CEU Chair are open. Committees such as Hospitality, Membership, and Trauma Network need added leadership and participation.

Now, you get the benefits for active IE-CAMFT participation: Increased self-esteem and connection in the relationship healing community. Participation at these levels make nice line items in one's resume showing yourself to be an action oriented, dynamic citizen vs. a plodding worker bee or job holder. I bet you can name some more benefits. Give it a try!

"AT OUR LAST IE-CAMFT MEETING..."

-JANELL GAGNON

In our January IE CAMFT meeting, we had the pleasure of hearing from Jamie Lynn Juarez, LMFT, about Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA). Jamie is the president of Hope Inc. in Rancho Cucamonga, and a Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist, Psycho-psychologist, and Credentialed School Counselor. She has been practicing since 2002, specializing in models of Cognitive Behavioral, Behavioral Modifications, Psychophysiology, Educational Neuroscience, EMDR, and Family Systems. She has a strong passion to change and assist our world's Autism epidemic, and it shows in her work and respected lectures.

If Applied Behavioral Analysis sounds foreign to you, you are not alone. All MFT's are familiar with Cognitive Behavior Therapy; however, few are familiar with Applied Behavioral Analysis. So then why should MFT's become familiar with ABA? ABA can be applied to many facets of our lives from animal training to industrial safety. More importantly for the mental health field, ABA has been most notably implemented to help treat difficult mental health disorders. Over the past 40 years substantial scientific support has been found for ABA. "Large bodies of literature demonstrate that ABA-based procedures successfully reduce problem behavior and increase appropriate life skills, social skill, and communication for individuals with intellectual disabilities, autism, and related disorders."

So what is Applied Behavioral Analysis? ABA is a discipline concerned with the application of behavioral science in real-world settings such as clinics or schools with the aim of addressing socially important issues such as behavior problems and learning (Baer, Wolf, & Risley, 1968). The goal of ABA is to increase, not decrease, productive behavior by expanding the behavioral options available to the client. To accomplish this goal, ABA focuses heavily on reinforcements, both positive and negative, as well as changing the environmental stimuli or antecedent. It makes sense to always look for what is reinforcing the negative behavior so we know what to change.

Jamie was helpful in breaking this staple concept down for us by describing the four types of antecedents, integrated into the common A-B-C model that we are all familiar with:

"AT OUR LAST IE-CAMFT MEETING..."

Antecedents	Behavior	Consequences
1. Attention	Screaming, arguing	The healthy replacement for
2. To gain something	drugs/alcohol, running away,	the negative antecedent.
3. Escape	overeating, porn,	Usually in the form of a
4. Stimulus (psychological)	gambling...	reinforcement.

This chart above helps to demonstrate a core concept of ABA. Each of the behaviors listed serves a purpose for the person. The behavior is meeting one of the four needs listed in the antecedent's column. So first we have to figure out what type of antecedent is causing the behavior, or what type of need the behavior is meeting for the client. Then, we must find a consequence that also meets the same need for the client, but that is a healthier means for meeting that need! Jamie used a great example to show how the process works:

A young soccer player wants to constantly watch soccer programs on T.V.

1. First we ask, what need is being met by watching soccer programs on T.V.? OR What type of antecedent is this?

Answer: To GAIN something. The boy is trying to gain knowledge about soccer.

Once this is known, a healthy replacement for that gaining of soccer knowledge can be put in place of the T.V. watching, so the boy's needs are being met and the behavior is changing.

This is just an example, so just as with any type of therapy, the antecedent or need must be assessed on a case by case basis.

This brief synopsis of our last month's meeting is just the tip of the ice berg about Applied Behavior Analysis and its range of applications. For more information about ABA, or to contact Jamie please call the Hope Inc. at (909) 948-3536 or visit the website at www.hopecounselingtherapist.com. Thank you again Jamie for your interesting and informative presentation!

Using EMDR AIP methods to treat adult clients with PTSD

When: Saturday, March 23rd, 2013. On the following day, James Knipe will be offering a private training.

Where: The 9th annual N Ca. EMDRIA Regional Meeting at Preservation Park in Oakland.

For Whom: beginning and advanced EMDR practitioners from all over the state.

Cost: This year we were again able to hold the cost at $50 (including lunch, and EMDRIA CE credits). BBS credits are an additional $10

Presenter: Our presenter, James Knipe, PhD. is an internationally recognized expert on the use of EMDR with clients who present with self-defeating psychological defenses and/or dissociative symptoms.

Description: Typically, clients come to therapy with a mixed presentation, not only of difficult life experiences (big T and little t traumas), but also a history of conscious or unconscious choices about how best to soothe, contain or avoid the emotional disturbance that has resulted from those experiences. In this presentation, I will describe some specific methods of using bi-lateral stimulation to assist clients in "disinvesting" from defensive processes, particularly avoidance and idealization defenses, so that unresolved traumatic material may become more accessible to standard EMDR processing.
