"STEP-FAMILIES: PERFORMING AN ASSESSMENT"

Featured Presenter:

CECILE DILLON, PHD, LMFT, LICENSED CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGIST

For years family therapists have been engaged in the process of family assessment of one form or another. Whether the clinician specifically starts with a critical period of family evaluation and diagnosis or the process is continuous and ongoing throughout treatment, family practitioners implicitly utilize a series of underlying dimensions. Some may focus mainly their evaluation in terms of family conflict. Some aim toward an understanding of family needs or roles played by different members, and some deal more with issues of boundaries, culture and social context. Yet, each therapist must employ a conceptual schema, a model, a personal point of view of family functioning, which is useful in understanding the family and, therefore, facilitates therapeutic work.

This presentation will review a two-part assessment format. The biopsychosocial history is completed by the family members outside the session. In the session, the therapist administers assessment of the stepfamily. The clinician's emphasis is on the particular aspects of stepfamily life that plays a crucial role in the adjustment of the remarried family including the resolution of the previous relationships, the influence of the outside parent(s) on the household, the mobility of the children between households, the integration of the new spouse/partner and the different family cultures, values, and norms in a stepfamily landscape.

“PRESIDENT’S MESSAGE”

-DAN TOTARO

Happy New Year!

I want to wish all of you a 2014 filled with hope, growth, gratitude and commitment!

In my view, 2013 was a very important year in the history of the California Association of Marriage and Family Therapists. We had the opportunity to decide the future of our organization. I want to thank each of you who took the time to make your views known, and most importantly, who voted on what direction you wished CAMFT to take. As I sat down to write this message and to reflect on the last year I thought of the following quote:

“...when you get involved, you feel the sense of hope and accomplishment that comes from knowing you are working to make things better.”

Anonymous

As for our chapter, 2013 was a year of continued growth and membership involvement. I feel very fortunate to have worked with all of you, especially my fellow board members. Let us make 2014 even better!

Take Care,

Dan

IE-CAMFT MISSION STATEMENT:

We are professional visionaries dedicated to providing training, networking, and advocacy for Marriage and Family Therapists to promote healthy individual, and couple and family relationships.

JANUARY CHAPTER MEETING “STEPFAMILIES: PERFORMING AN ASSESSMENT”

Presented by Cecile Dillon

This presentation will focus on the part of assessment that is conducted by the practitioner in session, while the copy of the biopsychosocial history completed by the family members will be provided as a guide to show how gathered information helps the therapist to conceptualize the problems and strengths of each family in an effort to develop the treatment plan for amelioration of the complains.

After assessment is completed, the strength, needs, and preference factors contributing to the stepfamily's adjustment should be identified separately from the presented problems areas. It is important also to recognize the support system of the stepfamily as being a crucial predictor of family strength and success.

Learning Objectives:

Participants will:

1. Increase knowledge about stepfamily assessment that is based on four fundamental principles (identify, respect; educate; empathize- IRE).
2. Review administration of two-part stepfamily assessment format (use of biopsychosocial history questionnaire outside of the session; performing assessment in the session).
3. Increase knowledge on how to use assessment data to formulate plan for treatment by using case material. ♦
